

ENDS INDIGESTION AFTER EATING

Just because the peppin pills, soda minis and other articles, digestive tablets you have been taking no longer give you the desired relief and you must take two, four or six instead of one to stop your heart burn, bloating, sour rising, belching and stomach lumps, it's no sign there is no quick relief for you, but a sure sign that it's high time you changed your medicine. Give up these so-called aids to digestion, that work on the food and do the stomach no actual good or you'll belch and bloat till doomsday. You need a remedy that will strengthen your stomach muscles and lining and increase the flow of digestive juices. Then your stomach will do its own digesting.

There is an old time remedy called Mi-o-na Stomach Tablets which give wonderfully quick relief in such cases. They are a spicy, mildly balanced stomach prescrip-tion and no matter how bad your stomach is, how long it has bothered or what or how much you eat, these little tablets will make your stom-ach digest every last particle of food in it. Lee & Osmond or most any good druggist in this vicinity sells Mi-o-na on a positive guaran-tee of satisfactory results or money back.

RETURNING TO AMERICA

From Australia—To Have Charge of Factory in Springfield.

In its issue of May 19, the Sydney Herald contained the following despatch from Melbourne, Australia:

It was announced by the minister for defense, Senator Pearce, today that A. C. Wright, manager of the common-wealth small arms factory, has re-quested to be relieved of his appoint-ment. Mr. Wright, he said, had ac-cepted an offer to take charge of works to manufacture rifles in another country for an ally of the British em-pire in the present war.

An enormous order for rifles had been placed with the company con-cerned, and several large factories had been acquired to carry out the work. "It is a compliment to the Australian factory," said the minister, "that its manager has been offered charge of this great undertaking. The govern-ment regrets that it is to lose the ser-vices of Mr. Wright, who has success-fully carried through a difficult task under many handicaps, but it is grati-fied that a factory under its control is to provide the general manager of probably the largest small arms plant in the world."

In conclusion, Senator Pearce said Mr. Wright would sever his connection with the commonwealth small arms factory at the end of July. Satisfac-tory arrangements were being made for carrying on the management of the factory.

TWO COMPENSATION DECISIONS

By: Commissioner Donohue—New London Ship and Engine Co. to Pay for Loss of Employee's Finger—Town of Colchester to Pay $520 to Employee Who Lost an Eye Cutting Brush.

The compensation commissioner for the Second district, Dr. James J. Donohue, filed on Tuesday with Clerk George E. Parsons of the superior court his findings and awards in two cases in which hearings were recently held before him.

The first was in the case of Joseph Sigona, of New London, a claimant against the New London Ship and En-gine company of Groton, by whom he was employed at the average weekly wage of $10.12, and while in that em-ployment received an injury which re-sulted in the loss of the ring finger of his left hand.

The commissioner finds and orders that the company shall pay the in-jured employee forthwith the sum of $126.50, which is compensation at $12.65 per week for 25 weeks, for the loss of the third finger of the left hand, together with what medical ser-vices were rendered by the doctor during the 30 days immediately fol-lowing the injury.

It is found that the injury occurred on Nov. 6, 1914, while Sigona was lifting some exhaust pipe, and that the plaintiff followed the contract of the bone, making necessary the am-putation of the entire ring finger of the left hand. Affidavits from the Boston City Hospital and the City hos-pital of Quincy, Mass., and from a doctor were produced to show that the claimant was suffering from a systemic disease, but this is not found to be the immediate and proximate cause of this disability; that it may be contributory is questionable. The loss of this specific member would not have occurred were there not a direct exciting cause, and this is found in the injury received. The hearing was held on June 16.

Colchester Case.

In the case of Frank Sinner of Moodus, claimant, against the town of Colchester and Stephen Brainard of Colchester, respondents, the com-missioner finds that the respondents are to pay the claimant forthwith $520, which is compensation at $5 per week for 104 weeks, for the complete loss of the sight of one eye, together with any medical, surgical and hospital ser-vices rendered for the 30 days follow-ing the injury.

It was agreed that the average weekly wage of the employee was $10, and the claimant testified that on April 1, 1915, while cutting brush at the town of Colchester, using hedge shears, a live branch from a huckleberry bush flew up and struck him in the right eye. He lost the sight of the eye.

Memorandum of Decision.

In a memorandum of decision, Com-missioner Donohue states:

This case seems to be one in which there appears to be some question as to responsibility for compensation for the injuries sustained by the claimant.

The evidence shows that Stephen Brainard employed Frank Sinner and charged the town of Colchester at the rate of $1.50 per day for his services. The position occupied by Mr. Brainard was that of a superintendent of the employ of the town of Colchester, as the wages of the employee were charged directly to the town. Con-sidering that the plaintiff is a young man to whom the responsible party is the award has been made against both parties named as respondents, and that is a matter which they may de-cide among themselves.

It was claimed by the attorney for the town of Colchester that he had three witnesses, all of whom stated that at 10 o'clock in the forenoon on April 1st there was about 15 minutes' more work to be done, and that the injury did not occur until about 2 o'clock in the afternoon. All the witnesses for the respondent evidently conferred upon the length of time in which the remainder of the work might have been done after 10 o'clock, for they all seemed to be of the same opinion as to the 15 minutes, while the claimant stated that it would have taken him probably one-half hour more after 2 o'clock to have completed the work if he had not been injured. It would be difficult matter to decide precisely and definitely the length of time required to accomplish a certain amount of work in cutting brush and clearing a roadside. The purpose of this testimony of the witnesses for the respondent was intended to show that the injury might have occurred at some place and at some time other than while in the employ of the re-spondents, but no attempt was made to prove the same.

The point was raised also as to whether the claimant was disposing of the brush and using an axe or shears, but the testimony offered on this point was of very immaterial nature.

The claim was also made by the respondents that the claimant was a casual employee, but under the opinion of the attorney general under the com-pensation act, casual employees stand in the same light as any other em-ployee. In fact, before the law was amended, every contract of employ-ment came within the scope of the law.

It is further claimed by the re-spondents that the town cannot be held responsible on account of the fact that taking care of the roads is a governmental duty imposed by statute upon the town by the state, but in one act in paragraph 43, under definitions, this state is specifically included as an employer, and the governmental duties of towns, which are arms or branches of the state, are not to be differentiat-ed from the duties of the state.

It was further claimed by the at-torney for the respondent that the claimant was a necessarily interested witness, which unquestionably is a fact, and really to be expected, and the same might be true of the wit-nesses for the respondents.

It is the duty and business of the towns to take care of their roads. It was ruled by the board of compensa-tion commissioners that towns were considered solvent and wherever for special reasons an official of a town desired a certificate of solvency, the same was granted on any occasion.

It was strongly claimed at the hearing by the attorney for the re-spondent that there was no liability because the injury might have oc-curred at some time other than while the claimant was in the employ of the respondents, but there was no evidence introduced to show that he was em-ployed at any other place at the time of the injury as alleged by the claim-ant, but this looks like rather an afterthought on the part of the re-spondents, as Mr. Brainard, as soon as he was notified of the injury re-ceived by the claimant, immediately took him to a physician, and gave the claimant $10 to go to St. Francis' hospital, where he was treated by Dr. Gill, an eye specialist, so that at the time of the injury there seemed to be little doubt or question in the mind of even Mr. Brainard but that the injury arose out of and in the course of the employment.

Neither Mr. Brainard nor the town of Colchester had made any pro-visions to insure their employees under the compensation act, and naturally on account of the responsibility which involves upon them, it is to be expected that they should have a personal interest in the matter and their testimony should be given its proper value.

Workmen's Compensation Agreement.

A new workmen's compensation agreement was placed on file on Tues-day with the clerk of the superior court by the town of Colchester and the respondent for this district. It was the following:

Ingalls Lumber company of Daniel-sburg, employer, and Augustus Tawyer of Hembury, employee, whose foot was run over by wagon on May 1st, causing dislocation of bones and bruises to leg, compensation for total disability at $5 per week from May 16th.

DR. W. A. KORN

AT SAN FRANCISCO.

Assigned There in Charge of Quarantine Station.

The San Francisco Chronicle of June 8 said:

Dr. William Korn, for the past three years chief of the American quaran-tine service at Hong Kong, and be-fore that in Manila, arrived on the Shinyo Maru yesterday morning to re-lieve Dr. M. W. Glover as chief of the quarantine service at this port. He was accompanied by his wife and son.

Dr. Glover has been on the Pacific coast in public health and marine service since 1903, and during that time has served from San Francisco to the Behring sea to San Francisco.

He is a specially equipped laboratory scientist and will leave for Wash-ington this week, where he has been assigned to the research laboratory of the service in that city.

Before going to the Orient, Dr. Korn was stationed last in New York city.

NEEDED ADDITION TO CHILD-CARING INSTITUTIONS.

State Board of Charities Commends St. Agnes' Home.

The state board of charities in its biennial report to the governor of Connecticut has this to say of St. Agnes' Home for Infants in West Hartford, to which nearly every Cath-olic in Norwich is a contributor: "The care of dependent children in Con-necticut offers one of the most diffi-cult and at the same time one of the most hopeful fields of activity in the state's charities. It is quite evi-dent that the eight county temporary homes with their average population of about a thousand inmates have long outlived their original purposes as temporary shelters. The foregoing statement in regard to dependent children in the state is a reference to the new St. Agnes' Home for Children in Hartford, which was opened for the reception of inmates in September, 1914. This new home was made possible by funds collected by a committee in the Roman Catholic diocese of Connecticut and is under the direct charge of the Sisters of Mercy. It has accommodations for two hundred inmates, with most complete equipment in all depart-ments, and is designed for the care of infants and children under five years of age. In this way it fur-nishes a much-needed addition to the child-caring institutions of the state because as its well-known, the county temporary homes and most of the orphan asylums do not re-ceive children under five years of age. Hitherto the almshouse has been about the only shelter for dependent children during these years of infancy."

SALMON FISHING ON THE RESTIGOUCHE.

Archibald Mitchell's Party Had Taken 40 to June 18th.

Mr. Mitchell writes a personal friend: The fishing is not up to the average this year, and the prospects are not promising owing to the lack of rain and scarcity of fish.

Our June salmon should average (as they have often done) a fraction over 22 pounds. You will notice there is one of 39 pounds. Tom Hunter, from Detroit, was the lucky man.

It is nearly always the unexpected that happens in salmon fishing, and the unexpected has happened this year, but upside down. However, we are not exactly skunked, for our party has killed up to date 40 salmon of the following weights: 15, 15, 25, 22, 17, 21, 20, 19, 23, 17, 25, 16, 28, 19, 17, 15, 15, 39, 26, 28, 15, 11, 16, 6, 21, 13, 22, 16, 22, 23, 10, 20, 9, 16, 21, 30, 21, 26, 21, 751 pounds, the average being 19 31-40 pounds.

These figures may look quite formidable, but remember this is for about an average of three rods from May 28th to June 18th.

We are having a splendid time up here, and a very good outing. I feel there is nothing to be compared to it.

New Seattle-Norway Line.

Commercial Agent W. R. Henderson, Seattle, Wash., reports that through the efforts of the New Seattle Chamber of Commerce and others in-terested in the shipping facilities of Puget Sound, Captain Fritz Olsen, of the Fred Olsen Shipping Company of Christiania, which recently estab-lished a service from Norway to San Francisco, has announced the decision of the above-named company to send its vessels of the new Norway-Pacific Line to Seattle. Five new vessels, three of 10,000 tons capacity and two of 6,000 tons, will be available for the trade between Puget Sound and Nor-way.

The Fred Olsen Company is build-ing six motor ships, which have cold-storage facilities, and five of these will be used in Seattle trade in the new Norway-Pacific Line. If the busi-ness warrants that number. The ves-sels will bring products of Norway, Holland, and the United Kingdom to Seattle, and it is expected that ship-ments from the north Pacific will con-sist of grain, fruits, lumber and canned salmon.

HAVE A YEAR'S WORK ON BOOKS

Connecticut Machinery Plants Unable to Accept Immediate Orders.

So rushed with orders are Con-necticut machinery manufacturers that when representatives of the Westing-house Company visited leading con-cerns at Waterbury and in Hartford recently, they found it impossible to get delivery of new machinery within less than a year, in any quantity, and in quantities sufficient to meet their needs within less than a year and a half. They came to Connecticut pre-pared to place large orders, especially with the Farrell Foundry & Machine Company at Waterbury and the Pratt & Whitney Company in Hartford, and were obliged to leave without placing anything like what they had intended. Some contracts for delivery in the fall of 1916 were given and the Westing-house representatives managed to find some machinery in stock among Con-necticut factories which they could use, which was quickly picked up for immediate shipment.

Vanilla Plants in Philippines.

A vanilla-producing plant, Vanilla ovalis, has been found on the island of Mindoro. The plant has roots similar to those of among and found to be superior to among for use in basketry, as they are pure white and require no bleaching. The plant also has a leaf similar to that of one kind of among (Potios rumbili) and in growth the two plants are very simi-lar. The leaf of the vanilla plant, how-ever, differs somewhat from the leaf of among in that it is unusually thick and in sessile. The plant is found both in open ravines and in deep for-ests, but is not plentiful. The Bureau of Education is investigating the plant with a view of ascertaining whether it may be developed commercially in making vanilla extract for trade pur-poses, says J. F. Bloomer, correspond-ent of the United States Government at Manila.
